Radio Warns Germans That Hitler Must Be Eliminated By Germany

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Jan. 9.—With the siege of Sevastopol lifted and Soviet armies advancing on all fronts, the Moscow radio today predicted the early start of a full scale offensive.

The Russian people were urged to redouble their efforts to provide the armies with everything needed to gain a complete victory.

"The enemy continues his retreat on many sectors of the front," the radio said, "losing a great number of killed and wounded, and abandoning tanks, trucks, guns and other equipment.

"The initiative has been torn from the enemy's hand. The German war machine has been broken.

"The Soviet armies will do their duty and smash the invaders completely. We must increase our efforts to provide the armies with everything needed to gain that victory."

Congress Considering Numerous Proposals To Raise Huge Taxes

By GRIFFING BANCRAFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9—With congressional proposals for financing the war now including such drastic suggestions as a national lottery and outright confiscation of all income above $20,000, tax leaders were called into an important conference today with Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau to determine who will bear the burden of increasing federal revenues.

Other developments noted as congressmen digested President Roosevelt's record budget calling for expenditure of $59,000,000,000 during the fiscal year starting July 1 $7,000,000,000 in new taxes, and another $2,000,000,000 in increased social security income were:

1. Sen. Byrd (D) Va., chairman of a special economic committee, announced that his group will meet next week and predicted it will demand reduction of non-military spending by more than $1,500,000,000 instead of by the $1,000,000,000 proposed in Mr. Roosevelt's budget.

Mercury Rises This Morning

Temperature Starts Upward After Hitting Mark Below Zero During Night

Evidence that the backbone of the current cold snap may be broken was seen this morning, when the mercury started rising gradually, after hitting an official mark of one below zero during the night.

Early risers found the temperature several degrees above zero, and by 10 o'clock this morning it had risen to 15 degrees. Light flurries of snow were also noted.

Local residents are hopeful that it will keep on going up, at least to a more comfortable point, as the few bitter days this week have caused a lot of suffering and have also been hard on the coal pile.

State May Get 16,667 New Cars During Year

Estimated Proportion In Rationing System That May Be Adopted

NO COMMANDEERING OF PRIVATE CARS

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—Approximately 16,667 new cars may be available for distribution in Pennsylvania during 1942, a high automotive association official disclosed today upon return from a conference at Washington with O. P. M.

The office of production management is considering an automobile rationing plan, patterned after the rubber rationing program but on a somewhat broader scale, said R. C. Jones, of Reading, vice president of the Pennsylvania Automotive association and member of an 18-man committee representing the nation's 44,000 automobile dealers.

Jones asserted that boards to supervise the rationing of new automobiles would be set up soon. The sale and production of new cars is being halted and motor plants are to be turned over to the production of war materials.

650,000 Available

Jones disclosed that O. P. M. representatives with whom the dealers' committee conferred had indicated that the 650,000 new automobiles which will be available when production ceases would have to be stretched to meet the nation's demands for the next three years.

Under this plan, 217,000 automobiles would be released for sale annually, said Jones. On the basis of 10,000,000 population, Pennsylvania's share of the 650,000 new cars would be 1-13th or approximately 50,000 for the next three years, or 16,667 cars per year.

Jones estimated that if this quota were equitably distributed by counties, a county having a population

British Prepare For All-Out Axis Attack Upon Island Stronghold

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The British government named one of its most distinguished military men, Major General D. M. W. Beak, to take command of the strategic Mediterranean base of Malta today, evidently in the belief that an all-out Axis attack on the island is near.

General Beak, V. C., D. S. O. M C., succeeds Maj. Gen. Scobell.

Malta in recent weeks has been under almost constant aerial attacks by Axis planes.

There have been many recent hints that the Axis powers may be planning to attack the little island base in force, since British planes and units based there have been playing havoc with Axis shipping in the Mediterranean.

A British broadcast heard by CBS said Malta has had 10 air raid warnings in 24 hours but added:

("The island's anti-aircraft barrage and fighter defenses have prevented serious damage.")

President May Name Full-Time Executive For Civilian Defense

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—James M. Landis, dean of the Harvard law school, was named "executive" of the office of civilian defense by President Roosevelt this afternoon, in what the White House called a "partial reorganization" of OCD.

Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia will continue as director of civilian defense and will work out "broad matters of policy" in consultation with Landis.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—President Roosevelt today is reported prepared to terminate the congressional controversy over civilian defense by appointing a full-time executive to administer the nation-wide organization, created by Mayor Fiorella H. LaGuardia of New York to protect the American public from enemy bombing raids Informed administration circles forecast the appointment of James M. Landis, dean of the Harvard law school, to this important task. There were hints, however, in other high quarters that the post would go to Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, in addition to his present duties.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Japan's exhaustive, supreme effort to conquer the Philippines—a move which the war department considered imminent early today—was interpreted by Washington observers as proof that the Nipponese high command has grown anxious about its military operations in the Far East.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's condensed line of defense and the forts of Manila Bay apparently were primed for the new "all-out" assault.

Indications were that the attack could be expected momentarily. The war department, in fact, flatly asserted that extensive maneuvers of Japanese troops on Luzon Island are "probably prepartory to a large-scale general attack."

High School Seniors Score Success In Staging Of "Prom King"

EXCELLENT CAST PORTRAYS ROLES

Now and then we've wondered somewhat as to how May Queens were chosen. After seeing some of the results there has been a sneaking suspicion of some fast politics. And now we have a rough idea, gotten Thursday night when "Prom King" was presented by the January senior class of the senior high school in the school auditorium.

"Prom King is a three-act comedy built around the struggles of three high school boys to be elected King of the Prom held annually at the school. The contest is between the campus hero, Steve Meredith; a mama's boy named Bob Henning, and Don Bender, the thick-skulled scion of the local glue manufacturer or some other business that makes money.

"The Winnah"

Henning never dated girls and the race for queen seemed to open, with every lass a candidate. Ergo they are supporting Henning. Meredith's "steady" is a junior and in order to get senior girl votes he promises to select a senior. Bender tries to get votes by treating the students to a case of the beverage handled by Mayor Charles B. Mayne. (Name upon request).

JAPAN MOVING TROOPS ON ISLAND

By JOHN HENRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A strange suspension of hostilities, which the war department believes may preclude a major assault against all defense strongholds, veiled the entire Philippine front today.

The impending attack was interpreted by Washington military observers as a manifestation of anxiety in the Nipponese high command.

Ominously Quiet

The only exchange between opposing forces according to the war department's morning communique, occurred northwest of Manila. Otherwise all was ominously quiet.

Japan, however, continued to move soldiers toward the arena of conflict, "apparently in preparation for a renewed attack in force," according to the war department.

Victim Of Gunfire From Italian Battle Cruiser Says London Paper

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 9.—General Italo Balbo, Fascist air leader killed in his plane in June, 1940, was the accidental victim of gunfire from an Italian battle cruiser, the London Daily Mail said today, quoting the Italian news agency, Stefani.

Killed under mysterious circumstances as he piloted a bombing plane over Tobruk, Libya, General Balbo had earlier been "banished" by Mussolini to Libya as governor.

After the Italians had claimed that Balbo died in air combat over Tobruk, the British announced no British planes were over the area at that time.

The Daily Mail quoted the news agency as declaring that the accidental downing of Balbo's plane "was a tragic error, but nothing but an error."

Says Hawaii Ready For Any Attack

Will Repulse Any Attack By Japs

Forces On Islands Have Been Greatly Reinforced Since War Started

HAWAII PREPARED FOR STRONG DEFENSE

By JAMES L. KILGALEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HONOLULU, Jan. 9.—Hawaii is ready to meet and repulse any Japanese attack, Gen. Delos C. Emmons, commander of United States forces in the Islands, declared in an interview today.

The commanding general of the Hawaiian department told International News Service:

"We are ready now to repulse any Japanese attack. We can hold the islands.

"We are alert and we are not waiting until the Singapore issue is settled."

Reinforcements Arrive.

Gen. Emmons said that Hawaii has been reinforced and now is much stronger than it was Dec. 7 when the Japs carried out their sneak attack that brought war to the Pacific.

Gen. Emmons declared Hawaiian defenses have been becoming stronger all the time. He said:

"We are on a frontier exposed to bombardment and assault. Everything must be done to make the islands secure.

"Business is not as usual—and it won't be as usual."

The commander of the island's defenses said he saw no prospect of relaxing the blackout or the "no liquor" edict.

Key To Pacific Coast

He said that should Hawaii ever fall—which he insisted will not happen—it would put the Pacific coast of the United States in a difficult situation. He characterized Hawaii as the "key to this side of the protective arc in the Pacific between the Panama Canal and Alaska."

Hawaii is prepared to receive an attack at any time, the general declared. It is not taking any chances, but is constantly watching for such an attack.

Gen. Emmons refused to make any predictions as to when another attack might come.

He declared Hawaii requires more workers and may have to import them.

The general, who was in London a year ago, said the nightly blackout achieved in Honolulu and the rest of the islands is even blacker and better than that in the British capital.

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 9—An announcement from imperial headquarters read over the Tokyo radio at 6 p. m. (Friday) said that a Japanese merchant ship had been torpedoed and damaged by an enemy submarine 100 miles from Tokyo bay Jan. 7.

Official announcement, which was heard by NBC's west coast monitors, added that the sceen of the attack was near the seven islands of Izu, which stretch south from the entrance of Tokyo bay.

All crew members were rescued, the statement said.

Natural Gas Shortages In Nine States

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The OPM, calling attention to a serious natural gas shortage in nine states, principally in the middle west, urged consumers in the area to cut their gas consumption as much as possible to make the fuel available for war industries.

The shortage was serious, the OPM said, in these states: Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, western New York, Michigan, Kansas and Missouri.

Especially serious shortages were reported by the OPM in Dayton, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Buffalo, Binghamton, N. Y., Detroit, Columbus and Chicago. It added these cities were places where residential consumers could help reduce the shortage.

SEVASTOPOL SIEGE HAS BEEN LIFTED MOSCOW REPORTS

drew to new positions in an effort to avoid encirclement by Soviet troops on three sides.

After relaxing their pressure on Sevastopol, military authorities said, the Nazis were falling back to defensive positions southwest of Simferopol. There, it was stated, they may make a stand if they can against the ever-increasing Soviet forces that have landed at Kerch, Yalta, Eupatoria and other points on the Crimean coast.

The Germans were forced to raise the long siege of Sevastopol to escape a trap being set for them by the advancing Russians. In addition, the Germans were attacked frontally by the defenders of Sevastopol itself, who surged from their bations in a sudden assault that carried them three to five miles.

Red Drive Continues

Meanwhile, the high command announced, the Russian drive continued along the entire front. Gains were recorded from the Black Sea to the frozen Lake Ladoga region far to the north.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The London Daily Mail reported from Stockholm that great new Russian armies, supported by new tanks, planes and guns, are moving up to the front for a smashing assault.

(This report said the period of initial Russian counter-attacks to secure jumping off places has now ended and that a full-scale offensive will soon begin. It described Soviet Premier Josef Stalin's plans as designed to force the Nazis into a disorganized, headlong retreat and to "annihilate the Germans, division by division, giving them no time to consolidate their positions anywhere."

(The Daily Mail also quoted the Berlin radio as saying German Lieut. Gen. Mueller has been killed on the Russian front.

Claim Transports Sunk

(A British radio broadcast picked up by CBS said a Soviet submarine operating with the Russian northern fleet sank two German transports in an attack on a strongly guarded Nazi convoy. The submarine escaped from counter-attacking German escort vessels, the broadcast stated.)

Meanwhile, the Kuibyshev radio told the German people in a broadcast directed to the Reich that they may expect neither mercy nor sympathy unless they take part in ending the Nazi regime.

"The German machine will be crushed and Hitler will be finished," the broadcast said. "But woe to those Germans who will not help in annihilating that machine. The independence of Germany is at stake.

"Germans, beware, the day of reckoning has begun. Every drop of blood, every tear, will be avenged."

The Moscow radio told Germany that "Hitler must die if the German people are to continue their peaceful existence."

STATE MAY GET 16,667 NEW CARS DURING YEAR

of 200,000 would receive 1-50th of 16,667 or 333 cars per year. Thus, for example, Dauphin county's share would be 256 new cars a year.

Production To End

Dealers who attended the Washington conference were advised, said Jones that they could expect as a fact that automobile production will end with the completion of 200,000 automobiles this month. Whether these 200,000 cars, along with the 450,000 already on hand, will be distributed through dealers is still a question, he added.

Jones said the rationing plan would take into consideration the importance of providing for the working man who needs his automobile in his employment. Everything discussed, he added, indicated that whatever method is applied for dealing with the automobile situation will be applied to both new and used cars.

The automotive official said that despite a report that the government may commander private cars, "it is not anticipated that such drastic steps will be taken."

Salesmen Out

Under present conditions, said Jones, O. P. M. officials expressed the opinion that almost all dealers' salesmen are in danger of losing their jobs. The suggestion was made that salesmen with former mechanical experience enroll in defense training courses available throughout the state.

O. P. M. felt that automobile mechanics will not be affected adversely by the stoppage of automobile sales, but will probably be in greater demand than before because of the need for reconditioning older cars and keeping them in operation.

Dealers attending the two-day Washington conference with representatives of the automotive division of O. P. M. declared themselves willing to do whatever was necessary to help win the war, but expressed the hope that they would be permitted to liquidate their present stock. Although O. P. M. authorities expressed sympathy for the dealers' plight, they stated that the steps taken by the government were necessary in the interests of defense.

JANUARY CLASS PRESENTS PLAY

but Meredith wins. His girl, Gloria Gordon, arranges to have him arrested on the night of the prom so Henning can wear the crown and she can be queen in place of the lately arrived lovely Murdane Hollows. The plan works, but Murdane fixes Henning up with a dose of stomach medicine that sends him home and then Murdane dates the doctor. Meredith gets out of jail in time to lead the prom, Gloria discovers she has enough credits to be a senior and takes the fickle Murdane's place. Thats a rough idea of "Prom King."

Packed House

The house was packed for the play and the customers got their money's worth. It was as cute a cast as Miss Clara Hartsuff has molded for a long time and they bit into their parts with relish. Among the younger people in the audience the antics of the cast brought gales of laughter, and among the older ones a nostalgia for those high school days.

Adding it all up, the play was a success in a number of ways. Between the second and third act Gerald Potter presented Miss Hartsuff with a bouquet of red roses upon behalf of the cast. During intermission between acts the senior high school band played a group of numbers directed by Joe F. Replogle. In our book the evening was a delightful bit of entertainment.

The cast follows:

Cast Of Play

CLOSER CHECK ON ENEMY ALIENS

Disclosure by Attorney General Biddle that the government is considering re-registration of the 1,100,000 enemy aliens in this country is a reassuring indication that efforts are being made to tighten safeguards against fifth columnists.

Last year almost 5,000,000 non-citizens were listed under the alien registration program and were given cards bearing a fingerprint. But they were not compelled to carry the cards on their persons.

Under the new plan outlined by Mr. Biddle every German, Italian and Japanese national in the United States would have to carry a registration card bearing a picture of the alien for identification purposes.

This is precisely as it should be. As America's gigantic war effort expands we may expect an increase in attempts of enemy agents to sabotage our armament program and spread confusion and dissension among us.

We should be able, at any time, to check up on enemy aliens and to keep a close watch on their activities.

HORSES—BUT NO BUGGIES

Some would-be prophets have begun to announce the early return of the horse to city streets, to replace the cars that will drop out of the procession as tires grow scarcer. They may be partly right. But there can hardly be a return to the horse-and-buggy period that preceded the motor age, for the simple reason that there aren't enough buggies for the purpose. The same priorities already tying up metals and materials in munitions and other war stuff will make it impossible to produce buggies on a large scale.

If the war lasted long enough, and all the tires gave out, and no new sources of rubber were developed, and so on with a lot of "ifs" that probably will never become fact, then the public might have to skip the horse-and-buggy era and go still farther back, to riding horses. But don't bet on any such turning back of the clock. There'll be plenty of horseback riding, no doubt. It has been gaining as recreation in recent years. But that won't make Dobbin the nation's principal means of transportation.

SEE NEW IMMIGRATION POLICY

The Manila Tribune says more than 2,000 Japanese left the Philippine Islands in the last six months. Normally there would have been continued immigration from Japan. The heavy outward movement seems to show foreknowledge of the approaching war. Very likely the emigrants were warned by the Japanese government to get out before the blow struck.

With such emigration, however, Americans and Filipinos can have no quarrel. The only regret now is that more of the Japanese didn't go. Thousands of those who remained in the Philippines have served as spies and Quislings, making the defense of the islands much harder than it would have been if the Japanese residents, many of them citizens, were loyal to their new home.

From now on, it will doubtless be more difficult for immigrants to get into the United States or any dependency of the United States. We shall adopt more of the British policy, which makes entrance and naturalization harder for aliens and keeps political and economic control more definitely in British hands.

AXIS AIR LINE MENACE ELIMINATED

The network of German and Italian-controlled air lines in South America has been one of the prime Axis assets on this side of the Atlantic.

Operating extensively from one end of the continent to the other, from Pacific to Atlantic coasts, close to such vital areas as the Panama Canal and the Venezuelan oil fields, these enemy-held lines were a continuing danger source.

Not only did the planes and pilots form the nucleus of a considerable combat force, if needed, but they enabled the Axis to keep informed on Latin-American bases, airfields, armament depots, troop movements, etc., and to have up-to-the-minute maps of strategic terrain.

One affiliate of the Deutsche Lufthansa operated a branch in Colombia, next-door neighbor to Panama. This line and others in Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador were eliminated, ending one potential menace in the northwest portion of the continent. Later, the direct Axis air link with Latin-America, the Italian Lati Line, was forced to suspend by the simple expedient of cutting off its gasoline supply.

But the backbone of Axis air operations below Panama remained the great German-controlled Condor Company, which maintained three branches covering over 8000 miles of air channels, mostly in Brazil. A Nazi air line in territory that might at any time be made the beachhead of German invasion via West Africa was a dangerous anomaly. In putting an end to it by seizure of the Condor system, the Brazilian government spiked a very menacing fifth column of the airways in Latin-America.

FIRE IS NOT INVINCIBLE

Fire is the ever-present enemy of property, of life, and of security.

Fire is a dark shadow across every business and home, every place where people gather. No man knows when it may strike. It rarely gives warning. And when it goes it leaves ruin and disaster in its wake.

Fire menaces all the people—and all the people's property. Each year it takes some ten thousand lives. Each year it destroys property valued at hundreds of millions of dollars. Each year it destroys employment, opportunity, progress.

But fire, fortunately, is not an invincible enemy. Fire can be licked. It feeds on carelessness, ignorance, stupidity. Fire can be starved by knowledge and preparedness and the intelligent application of a few simple rules of fire prevention.

In the home, fire has many friends. Accumulations of old paper, clothing, and other burnable materials—improperly stored inflammable liquids—out-of-repair heating and lighting equipment—these are major sources of fire. Eliminate them, and fire's opportunity to destroy is tremendously reduced.

In the business or the factory, similar hazards often exist. Coupled with that, there may be a lack of proper fire-fighting equipment, lack of education of workers, lack of attention to fire dangers. Here, too, the risks can easily and cheaply be reduced to the minimum.

Fire must be fought in the interest of protection of the individual, protection of property—and, in these days of national defense, protection of the nation. All of us must do our part in this battle.

Poor quality of German lubricants is credited with helping to defeat Nazi mechanized units in Russia. Viscosity, too is fighting for the Allies.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SET EXAMPLE FOR CHILD IN MANNERS

Not all children of good homes have a happy dinner hour. Some have parents who won't let them, parents who continually annoy them.

Manners! This evening many thousand lectures may be delivered, with great earnestness and heat, by parents to their children at the dinner table. Most are given piecemeal, and so distributed as to spread over the whole dinner hour.

"Not so fast, Joe. Not so much noise with your soup."

"Sit up Sally; if you slouch down like that you will be an ugly thing with round shoulders when you grow up." "Sam, Sam! Keep your lips closed when you chew." "Don't hold your fork that way, Sally." "Joe, what'd I tell you about eating fast?" "Not such big bites, Joe." "Sit up, Sam. Your hands are dirty. You know better than to come to the table with such hands. I wonder when you will ever get cleaned up." "Joe, Joe, your elbows! How often have I told you never to put your elbows on the table?"

All the while the mother may be making nervous movements with her head and hands and mouth, eating rapidly, no doubt, even talking with her mouth half full of food. She may be the most unmannerly person at the table, if we think of manners as a means of making those about us comfortable.

Upsetting For All

It may be father who is the annoyer. Sometimes he and mother work in relays, and if there is an aunt or grandmother in the family she comes to the relief of the weary parents.

To most parents a movietone of the home dinner hour would be most surprising and instructive.

Naturally, parents wish their children to acquire good table manners. Then they should stop such barbarous practices as have been described. Let them acquire very precise table manners and make themselves so likable and the dinner atmosphere so comfortable that children will inevitably choose to imitate them.

If a child has developed an unattractive habit, explain to him before the next dinner hour what the offense is, and that when it is repeated he will immediately exclude himself from the family group to finish the meal elsewhere. Then keep your word. If he must be sent away, do it with a quiet word or gesture.

From this day on make it a habit of reciting at the dinner table the funny incidents in your day's experiences, and make the dinner hour a time to be looked forward to with eagerness by the entire family.

ON BEING TACTLESS

If commissioned to write a book "How to Lose Friends and Repel People," Rule No. 1 would be: "Be tactless."

Before our neighbor who has two little daughters attending a dancing school, I, the other day, heard another neighbor say: "I don't approve of dancing lessons for young girls. It makes them forward." Throughout life, we hear people also criticize religious creeds, political parties and racial traits without checking up on those who may be listening.

Last night, I heard a very learned man purposely mispronounced the name of an important city involved in the present war to avoid embarrassing a guest who had thus mispronounced it to him. It reminded me of a story my father used to tell me of a great man who entertained a humble tenant at dinner along with a group of wealthy and cultured guests. The tenant poured his coffee into his saucer and began drinking it therefrom to cool it, whereupon the other guests snickered and exchanged knowing looks, so the important host poured his coffee from his own cup into his saucer from which he sipped it in order to put his tenant at ease. Which reminds me that the other day in Washington, one of the corps of correspondents told me this story in reverse. A man invited to one fo President Coolidge's famous breakfast conferences was surprised to see the President pour coffee from his cup into his saucer, where he left it for a few minutes during which the guest, wishing to please the chief executive, poured his own coffee into his saucer. But after he had done so the president put his saucer on the floor where his favorite dog lapped it up.

What's What At A Glance

Rosenberg Held Worse Than Hitler
Arouses Fuehrer To More Excesses
Held Author Of Much Of Mein Kampf

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—If such a thing's possible, Dr. Alfred Rosenberg is beginning to be assessed as worse than Adolf Schicklgruber, the name Fuehrer Hitler originally was born under in Austria. And yet, though of course it sounds paradoxical, there are observers of the situation in Germany who think that maybe the doc will do the world a favor in the long run—by influencing the Nazi dictator into such excesses that he'll arouse the Germans themselves against him.

Outside the Reich, Alfred isn't as well known as various other notabilities associated with the Berlin regime, like Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler, Marshal Hermann Goering, Foregin Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Propagandist Paul Josef Goebbels. Nevertheless, in a diabolical fashion, he's an interesting character and worth study, as a curiosity.

He was born in Russia, but didn't like Communism, when it began to manifest itself. Civilized folk wouldn't have found any fault with that, but it developed later that he had the Nazi philosophy in his system considerably before Herr Hitler began to enunciate it. Leaving the Soviet realm for Germany, at a time when Adolf was in his incipiency, he met the prospective Fuehrer and, being a brainy individual, in his fiendish way, greatly impressed the latter. The testimony is that he was largely responsible for converting his new acquaintance to his own line of reasoning. In fact, he's said to have dictated a good deal of Mein Kampf.

He also was the inventor of an anti-religious kind of religion—anti-Jewish, anti-Christian and anti-everything else in the classification of spiritual beliefs.

Persecution of the Jews was part of his program. Perhaps he initiated it. He favored it, anyhow.

Christianity To Go?

Now he's campaigning for Christianity's exterminaiton. All its cathedrals, churches and chapels are to be confiscated by the Nazis state and dedicated to services in the interest of a not very clear god of his personal creation. Swastikas will be substituted for crosses and the Bible will be replaced by Mein Kampf. The rearrangement doesn't appear actually to have started yet, but the doc's urging it, and indications are that he'll have his way. His faith's to be known as Nazi Weltanschauung.

The surmise in democratic lands is that Germany's Catholics, Lutherans and believers in assorted other of Christianity's creeds will boil over if his plan's adopted, and that there'll be enough of 'em to give Adolf's regime a terrific jolt.

Spokesmen like Bishop Count Clement August von Galen of Westphalia already have warned the Fuehrer that his policy will call down divine punishment upon "our people and country." On the Protestant side, the case of the Rev. Dr. Martin Niemoeller, who suffered in-

And she doesn't like his language when he's talking to his horse.
But she'll travel miles to hear it when she thinks it's all the rage,
For it's art and human nature when it's spoken on the stage.

She would frown you from her presence if you spoke a naughty word

But it's plain that she enjoys it in a book or on the stage.

The World and the Mud Puddles

NEVER WAS PERMANENT PEACE

The jittery alarmists among the citizens of the United States are certain now that the World war is going to last for at least ten years.

Perhaps they are right. They refer to the fact that Europe in the Middle Ages was torn to pieces with a war known as the "Hundred Year War" and at another time with a war that lasted for thirty years. Those wars, however, were more or less guerilla affairs. No peoples were licked and stayed licked. In the duration of those wars, no peace was ever signed that stayed signed. The barons would get together and start out afresh.

This war is being waged with highly developed war machinery, on land, on sea and in the air and someone is, eventually, going to get well licked. If the United States and Great Britain are the victors, we probably will make a very foolish peace just as we did at the close of the last so-called World war. Both Great Britain and the United States possess citizens with a very generaus spirit and a very hopeful spirit. It will be remembered that the late President Wilson was to have "made the world safe for democracy" and immediately we dismissed our soldiers. We did not inaugurate a system of universal military training. Oh, no—that would only encourage the powers in Washington to become themselves world dictators; would only encourage a military spirit in the citizens of the United States to start war. The citizens of Geat Britain were just as bad as were the citizens of France. Although France had a universal military training system, yet both England and France, who were supposed to be on the job, sat by and allowed Germany to break every clause of the Treaty of Peace and to build a tremendous military organization, without interposing a single violent protest. For a while our army maintained a "Watch on the Rhine," a part of the Army of Occupation, but we got tired of that and withdrew our soldiers; loaned Germany money with which to build roads, bridges, Panzer tanks, Messerschmidt war planes and a great navy of under-sea boats, without a forcible protest; in fact, without any protest whatsoever.

It was all in line with what happened at Pearl Harbor on the seventh of Decmeber. There was no preparation for what many thinking men considered was the inevitable. As for a long war, it may be longer than we hope for, but the people in Washington should put their foot down hard and draft not only many of the citizens of the United States, but draft very man Jack into the service to the effect that there will be no strikes of any kind, no more labor racketeering, treating labor racketeers as they should be treated—as enemies of the republic and make no bones about it whatsoever.

Unless this is done, there will be more "Pearl Harbors."

1809—Edgar Allen Poe, poet and short story writer, at Boston. He was one of America's greatest poets. His meters and choice of melodious words were unlike anything that ever had been written in English. His best poetry has qualities of lilt and rhythm which have never been surpassed by any other poet.

1859—Carrie Chapman Catt, suffragist leader, at Ripon, Wis. She was president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association nine years and president of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance from 1904 to 1923. She wrote "Woman Suffrage and Politics".

1878—John Broadus Watson, psychologist, at Greenville, S. C. He was appointed professor of experimental and comparative psychology at Johns Hopkins university in 1908 and later director of the psychological laboratory there. It is correct procedure for the man of the party who is going to pay the check to look the bill over to see that it is correct before paying, even though the expense is to be divided up later. WALTON-SMITH NEWS ANNOUNCED AT PARTY

One of the loveliest of announcement parties was held Tuesday evening in The Castleton, when Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walton, of the East Brook-Volant road, announced the marriage of their daughter, Jane, to Howard Leslie Smith, of 1102 Highland avenue.

The wedding ceremony was performed in the Methodist church of Leonardstown, Md., on September 15, 1941, with Rev. Naylor officiating. They were unattended.

Five tables of bridge were in progress last evening, and following play a delicious lunch was served at an attractively arranged table. The marriage news was cleverly revealed in tiny scrolls concealed in corsages of pink roses and baby's breath.

Out-of-town guests attending the occasion included Mrs. W. M. Mitchell, of West Middlesex, and Mrs. Marian Moon, of Grove City.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of the local high school and attended Grove City college. Mr. Smith is affiliated with the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, and is at the present attending Pittsburgh School of Embalming.

FIRST MEETING OF NEW YEAR FOR LYDIA CIRCLE

The Lydia Circle of the First Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at two o'clock in the church parlors for its first meeting of the new year.

Plans for the year's work were outlined in the course of the business meeting, over which Mrs. David W. Reese presided.

A tureen luncheon is scheduled for the February 5 meeting, at the church.

Orpah Circle Meets

Members of the Orpah Circle, First Methodist church, gathered Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Lucy Marquis, Boyles avenue, when Mrs. John Emery, the retiring president, and her group of officers closed the years' work. Mrs. W. O. Mayberry, the new president, and her officers, took charge.

A memorial was given in honor of Mrs. John Butler, a faithful member of the Circle, who passed away recently. Following, the study book was reviewed by Mrs. B. H. Kanenberg, and Mrs. John Templeton gave a reading from the church paper.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her aides, Mrs. W. L. Beal, Mrs. C. J. Streib, Mrs. J. W. Anderson and Mrs. J. E. Brown.

Next meeting will be Febraury 12, at seven p. m. in the church.

Bueno Ameci Club.

Mrs. Christina Marshall of Friendship street, entertained the members of the Buono Ameci club, Wednesday evening in her home.

Contests and dancing were the pastimes. Rita Orrico captured the club token. Special guests were Mrs. Bridget DeGennaro and Mrs. Mary Augostine.

A ravioli dinner has been planned. On January 21, Mrs. Rose Passarette will entertain in the home of Mrs. Carrie Sands, of 814 South Mercer street.

What's What At A Glance

ternment rather than subordinate his church's beliefs to Nazi requirements, already has been widely publicized, despite all efforts to keep it hushed up.

Catholic Italy isn't deemed likely to regard the suppression of Christianity in its Axis partner's country with anything but horror, either.

Spain, not yet in the Axis, but with a government, under Caudillo Francisco Franco, that has been sympathetic toward it, is Catholic, too. There's a deal of wondering if it'll stay sympathetic in the event of the Fuehrer's acquiescence in Doc Rosenberg's program.

Christian Science Out

Christian Science already has been squelched in Germany.

Naturally there can be no question as to how the Jews feel.

Generally speaking, the doc has been an unofficial influence with Adolf. The Fuehrer did, indeed, upon launching his attack on the U. S. S. R., appoint him to the post of civil administration commissar in eastern Russia, since he was native there, but it isn't a position of much consequence with the Nazis in such rapid retreat on that front.

The doc, like Adolf, had an art education in his youth, and taught drawing once in a school in Reval. More recently he has been an editor — of the Volkischer Beobachter, which he founded. He's seen a little military service, but doesn't profess soldierly experience to speak of. Essentially he describes himself as what we'd call a "brain truster" here in the United States.

Even if she wears no diamonds, the arrogant way she bawls out the clerks tells you she married a rich guy.

ROTARY WILL HEAR CASS.

Earle W. Cass, director of vocational education for the New Castle public school system, will tell the New Castle Rotary club of the progress of defense training classes at the vocational shop building, Lutton street, at its luncheon in The Castleton next Monday noon.

Japan Anxious About Attitude Of Soviet Russia

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Jan. 9.—(By official Japanese wireless)—A sharp new warning to Soviet Russia to adhere strictly to her neutrality pact with Japan was voiced today by the influential newspaper Hochi Shimbun.

In particular, the newspaper said, Russia must ignore "all allurements from the Anglo-American side."

"Since conclusion of the Moscow conference," Hochi said, "continued cooperation among Russia, the United States and Great Britain has become more intimate.

"There is need for more enlightenment regarding Soviet military talks with Chungking officials and of the obvious Anglo-American desire for more active participation by Russia in the war of eastern Asia. . .

"Leading American naval authorities desire Kamchatka, Vladivostok and other places in Soviet Siberia as bases for United States forces.

"In view of the general war situation, Moscow will do well not to listen to enticements from Washington."

State Tourist Trade Facing New Problems

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—Pennsylvania's third greatest industry, the annual $375,000,000 tourist trade, is facing a crisis today because of the war.

Representatives of tourist agencies, hotels, publishers, motor clubs and other groups vitally interested in what up to now has been one of the state's greatest sources of income will meet early this month with officials of the state department of commerce to plan what action shall be taken.

The final decision on whether the state shall solicit tourist business this year will be made by Secretary of Commerce Mark S. James, but it will be influenced to a great extent by the reactions of the "tourist people."

Faced with suspended automobile production, tire rationing and possible gasoline rationing also, leading tourist agencies of the Pacific Northwest, another of the nation's great vacation spots, are already reported to have practically written off the tourist trade for the duration of the war.

May Continue Effort

There were strong indications however, that this state will not halt its annual campaign to garner the vacationist's dollar. "I think we've still got a part to play in keeping the people of this country fit for defense," said a spokesman for the commerce department.

In normal times the tourist trade ranks third among the state's great industries, surpassed in value only by the steel and textile industries. The slogan "Pennsylvania Has Everything" draws vacationists from all over the country and from many foreign lands.

In the event the department of commerce decides to continue its tourist program it has available for an advertising and publicity program approximately $200,000 of a $400,000 biennial appropriation given it last year by the legislature.

Indications are that in the event the "go ahead" signal is given the state will concentrate on native vacationists and those from neighboring states and drop its campaign to attract tourists from far-away states, such as California and Florida.

"There is a difference between the Pacific Northwest and Pennsylvania which is in our favor," said the commerce department spokesman. "This is an industrial state and the people who work in defense industries must have some leisure and they won't have time to travel outside the state. We have so much to offer there won't be any need for it.

"I don't think we'll be hit as hard as the Northwest states," he continued, "Instead of traveling about touring the country, people in this and neighboring states will probably spend their entire vacation at one camp, hotel or other vacation spot, thus conserving their tires and gasoline.

"People in the Northeastern United States generally can't go to the Yellowstone or even Canada now," he said, "but they can come to Pennsylvania."

PATRIOTIC LAWBREAKERS
(International News Service)

FORT WORTH, Tex.—The Tarrant county election board—consisting of a county judge, the sheriff and the county clerk—has announced it intends to violate the law from now until the end of the war. The law they will break requires that old ballots be burned. However, mindful of the nation's need for waste paper, the board has authorized the county clerk to tear up the old ballots and then bale them for reprocessing.

Claim German Officers Heading Jap Offensives

May Be Heading Japanese Drive In Malaya Toward Singapore

(International News Service)

WITH THE BRITISH IMPERIAL FORCES IN MALAYA, Jan. 9.—Reports reached correspondents with the British Malayan army today that German officers may be leading Japanese detachments driving for Singapore.

One Indian sergeant-major returned to his base headquarters at this vital spot on the battleline and told of a thrilling hand to hand encounter with an officer he described as a "flexan-haired giant."

"He was a mammoth fellow—as Nordic or 'Aryan' as they come," the sergeant major said.

He was dressed in khaki and wore knee-high rubber boots. These alone distinguished him as an officer for the little Jap midgets have to be satisfied with tennis shoes.

"In his right hand he held a long sword, razor sharp and of a characteristic European army type.

"This chap ran through one of my men before I could get near him but I finally cornered him and we had it out in a rubber plantation nearby. It was a bit of a scrap but I took care of him."

Other members of the group were less modest in describing the encounter, saying that the blonde giant put up a terrific struggle before the sergeant-major killed him.

This was the most complete account of any contact with a European officer at the head of Japanese troops. But several other British officers reported seeing tall fair-haired enemy officers of the European appearance at the head of enemy detachments.

Save Old Razor Blades To Make Steel For Tanks

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Answer came today to the vexing question of what to do with old razor blades.

It was: "Tanks for the Yanks—save your old razor blades."

Solution to the problem was furnished by the Master Barbers Association of Chicago whose executive secretary-treasurer, Frank Aliotta, announced that every barbershop would be a receiving station. He added that steps were being taken to make the campaign nationwide.

More than 7,000,000 blades, he said, are sold every year and more than 5,000 tons of metal go into their manufacture annually.

GROUNDS APLENTY

MIAMI, Fla.—What constitutes enough ground for federal agents to raid a suspected moonshine place without a search warrant? Federal Judge John W. Holland ruled that when Mary Lee Singleton, Negro woman of Fort Lauderdale, doused three agents with a tub full of moonshine liquor pitched out of her bedroom window, it was plenty of grounds.

Babson Discusses Household Buying During War Period

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1942—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Florida, Jan. 9.—There is no use kidding ourselves any longer. For the first time for twenty-five years we are at war. In fact, we now are the leading nation in the greatest war the world has ever witnessed. To those who are complaining because they cannot buy new automobile tires let me say, "We ain't seen nothing yet!"

BABSON

Buy Your Metal Goods Now

Very few people realize the changes which will occur during 1942,—the most important year in our nation's history. Not only will our sons be drafted into the army and our daughters be called to drive trucks, but all of us will be told what we can do and can buy. Moreover, these 1942 regulations will be far more stringent than anything even discussed during World War 1.

Among the first goods to evaporate from the stores will be the non-essential metal and rubber goods. These include automobiles, bicycles, tricycles, carts, ice and roller skates, and most toys containing metal or rubber. In addition, the following articles will be scacer every month: Radios, electric toasters, broilers, food mixers and waffle irons, metal refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, and other household gadgets. Metal and wire baskets, garbage pails, smoking stands, ash trays, vases, etc. are already pretty much gone from the wholesale markets. If you want any of these things, better buy them tomorrow. Metal trunks, metal furniture and kitchen cabinets, metal lamps and standards, paper and cordage may also be banned. Better buy now a two years' supply of overshoes, rubbers, etc.

What About Foods?

There is no statistical evidence for food scarcity. In fact, we have on hand a wheat supply ample for over two years. In most markets chicken and lamb are selling for less than a year ago and beef is only very little higher, but pork is way up in price. Prepare to eat more pot roasts and lamb stews; but cut down on eggs, cheese, cream, etc. which are being sent abroad to the soldiers. Fifteen per cent more chickens will be on the market in 1942.

With the exception of tomato soup, the cheaper brands of canned soup are now higher and many canned goods are now scarce. This, however, should be only temporary as the potential supplies of fruits and vegetables are greater than ever. Tin, however, is getting scarce so that the tin can soon may cost more than the food in it!

Fish Is Becoming Scarce

The fish catch for 1941 was about 4,500 million pounds. This could readily be stepped up to 6,000 million pounds; but to do so will cost money. Fishing boats are being taken over by the government for mine layers and other purposes; fishermen are frightened of submarines; while these able-bodied men can get in war work ashore paying far more than fishing.

Soap And Fats

When our soldier boys get to Africa or the Far East, they will want us to send them soap. Hence, wise mothers will now stock up on soap, fats, oils, etc. All these will sell for higher prices if you are able to get them at any price. Bread is now going up one cent a loaf; sugar will be no cheaper; while canned milk, and most package goods will sell at higher prices. This, however, will be due to high labor costs, increased freight rates, and packaging costs—not to a shortage of the food contents.

Housewives should confine purchases to standard goods and experiment with substitutes. I gave my family recently 15-cent oleomargarine instead of 40-cent butter and they could not tell the difference. Quit buying crab meat and other imported products which you don't need. I have cut out tea and coffee and feel better for it. If you need any wall paper or floor coverings better buy them now. No hurry about stocking up on cotton goods.

New Opportunities

Every cloud has a silver lining! For instance, a great new industry has developed in Europe—the carrying of messages, packages, etc. by bicycle, and on foot. Much of this is legitimate: but there also is much bootlegging transportation. For instance, notwithstanding the censorship, for one dollar American money anyone can get any letter from Paris to Lisbon and hence to the United States. These "underground" routes carried on by relays of workmen and tourists are giving employment to thousands of people.

The United States offers great opportunities in devising substitutes and the reconditioning of "worn out" goods. This includes retreading tires, riepairing sewing machines, rebuilding vacuum cleaners, radios, and household appliances of all kinds. Small repair shops will open up in every neighborhood. The shoe cobblers will do a big business in 1942 and 1943. The used-automobile market will exceed in activity the stock market. Dealers in second-hand furniture and other products will have a big year in 1942.

Brains Are For Use

There may be some small increase in living costs in the months ahead; but those who buy only standard goods and do careful shopping should keep costs down to former figures. Remember:—If you insist on the same goods and same grades, it will cost us more to live; but by using sane substitutes we can be as healthy and happy and perhaps live cheaper than during 1941.

Harrisburger Takes Trainmaster Post

Kimble Today Assumes Pennsy Position; Seay New Niles Supervisor

H. L. Kimble today had assumed his new post as trainmaster-division operator of the Erie & Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Kimble, for some time assistant trainmaster at the Pennsy's busy Enola yards at Harrisburg, suceeds L. G. Jamison, promoted last week to night freight trainmaster of the New York division.

Taking up his new position today also was K. L. Seay, new assistant supervisor of track for Sub-Division 3 at Niles. Seay takes the place of A. M. Schofield, sent to the Eastern division.

New faces appeared at the year-end in several E. & A. headquarters offices, with M. C. Bitner, a former division man, returning from the New York division as division engineer to succeed C. E. Brinser, given a big advance to the post of assistant to the chief engineer, maintenance-of-way, for the central region with headquarters in Pittsburgh.

The new trainmaster, Kimble, will also have supervision over the telegraphic operators of the division.

She will speak at both of the services in this city on the problems of the colored people.

This quartet has committed over 250 songs and Negro spirituals to memory.

There will be no admission charge at these concerts, to be open to the public.

La Guardia Will Keep Both Jobs For Time Being

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Mayor F. H. LaGuardia continued today to hold his jobs as national director of the office of civilian defense and chief executive of the city of New York.

"You can't let go," La Guardia said, "the job isn't finished."

Mayor LaGuardia revealed his position in a 70-minute talk to the new city council and said it was possible for him to resign as director of civilian defense, resign as mayor or resign both jobs and go back in the army.

"I suppose a decision will have to be made," he added. "I am not worrying about it at this moment because I don't think I have lost grasp of the situation in New York. I hope I haven't."

LaGuardia then revealed he would be relieved of much of the detailed work connected with the civilian defense post, but said, "this change will take me more in the field and take more time."

Woman Frightened By Forced Landing Of Plane Thursday

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—Arrangements were made today to salvage an army pursuit plane which crashed on a Bethel township farm late yesterday and frightened a housewife into thinking the "German had come."

The pilot, Lt. Victor Talbot, of San Diego, Cal., escaped injury in the "pancake" landing, but his plane was damaged considerably. He was forced down when his fuel supply gave out.

Talbot walked a mile from the scene of the crash to the home of Mrs. J. W. Sloan, who said she thought the "Germans had come" when she looked out the window and saw his uniform.

Talbot explained that his fuel supply ran low when he tried to bring aid to a fellow pilot who parachuted from his disabled plane near Piedmont, O. In an attempt to attract attention, the army officer circled over the prostrate figure of Lt. Shannon Christian, of Amory, Miss., who lay unconscious on the ground, until his gasoline was almost gone.

He was only 12 miles from the Pittsburgh airfield when it gave out entirely. While Talbot stayed at the scene, a third flier went on to Cambridge, O., about 25 miles from where Lt. Christian parachuted to the ground, to bring help. Lt. Christian was taken to a Wheeling, W. Va., hospital with an injured back.

FORMS FOR MAKING RETURNS

Forms for filing returns of income for 1941 have been sent to persons who filed returns last year. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to file his return and pay the tax on time—on or before March 16 if the return is made on the year basis, as is the case with most individuals.

Forms may be obtained upon request, written or personal, from the offices of collectors and from deputy collectors of intrenal revenue in the larger cities and towns.

A person should file his return on Form 1040, unless his gross income for 1941 does not exceed $3,000 and consists wholly of salary, wages, or other compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, rent, annuities or royalties, in which event he may elect to fil it on Form 1040A, a simplified form on which the tax may be readily ascertained by reference to a table contained in the form.

The return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer has his legal residence or principal place of business on or before midnight of March 16, 1942. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return or in four equal installments, due on or before March 16, June 15, September 15, and December 15.

"RETONGA WAS GRAND" STATES MRS. BLACK

Life-Long Resident Tells Of Years Of Suffering Promptly Relieved And Says She Feels Like Different Woman.

Still more Pennsylvania residents come forward with grateful public endorsements of Retonga, telling how this widely praised medicine brought them prompt relief from the harassing distress of nervous indigestion, loss of weight and strength, muscular aches and pains, weak, nervous rundown feeling, and similar debiliatating symptoms due to the need of a gastric tonic, loss of appetite, constipation, and need of Vitamin B-1, for nerves, strength and digestion. Mrs. Kathryn Black of 1426 Hodgkiss St., N. S., declares:

"Acid indigestion and gas in my stomach were often so bad I felt like I would choke. I felt tired and worn out, it usually took me nours to get to sleep, and I would wake up in the morning feeling as draggy as when I went to bed. Constipation was so stubborn I had to take a strong purgative nearly every night that came. My arm felt so sore and painful sometimes I could hardly stand it.

"Retonga brought me grand relief. I now eat anything I want and my appetite is fine. That pain and soreness in my arm is relieved and my bowels act easily. I feel like a different person. Retonga did everything people say it will."

Thousands praise Rotonga. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Eckerd's & Pay-Less Store.—Adv.

Seek To Remove All Obstacles To Reapportionment

By JOHN PAGET
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—In an effort to remove the last obstacle blocking congressional reapportionment, Democratic party chieftains will meet at Harrisburg today with leaders from five southwestern Pennsylvania counties who oppose the proposed solution.

Speaker of the House Elmer Kilroy, Philadelphia Democrat, predicted the conferees would reach an agreement and thus pave the way for Gov. Arthur H. James to convene a special session of the legislature to adopt the redistricting plan along with various defense and anti-sabotage measures prompted by the nation's entry into war.

Kilroy said Meredith Meyers, Democratic state chairman, had invited the county leaders to meet with party chieftains in order to erase the opposition of western Pennsylvania Democrats to part of the reapportionment in Allegheny, Greene, Fayette, Somerset and Washington counties.

Democratic party leadership will be represented by Meyers, Kilroy, Rep. Leo A. Achterman, Monroe, majority floor leader in the House, and Democratic National Committeeman David L. Lawrence, Pittsburgh.

Kilroy asserted that the conferees hoped to draft a proposal "which would hurt the Democratic party the least."

Seek Supreme War Production Office For U. S.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A congressional drive for creation of a supreme war production office, which would be a counterpart of the famous British ministry of supply, gained momentum today as the Senate military affairs committee ordered hearings on the proposal.

The action came as persistent reports were spread in congressional circles that President Roosevelt is considering a new reorganization plan, which would establish one-man rule of production.

The bill by Sen. Kilgore (D) Va., setting up a department of defense and control, will be the vehicle for the Senate hearings, which may develop into an inquiry into the entire policy of war production. Sen. Wallgren (D) Wash., was named chairman of a subcommittee to begin hearings next week.

The Kilgore bill provides for a secretary of defense—who would be the ruler of production—to head the department. Powers now held by war and navy departments in purchasing supplies, contracting, erecting buildings and facilities and similar activities, would be transferred to the department. The war and navy departments would become solely responsible for actual military matters.

The new defense secretary would be given jurisdiction of the office of production management, all civilian activities relating to national defense, and would allocate production.

"There is a growing belief that this must be done in order to efficiently supply the materials which our army and navy need," said Kilgore. "It would avoid duplication and competition in bidding, and would really mobilize the nation's resources.

"You can't efficiently conduct such a huge program as we are embarked upon without having one man responsible. You can't do it by committees, as we now are doing."

Prime Minister Churchill was reported to have paid high tribute to the British ministry of supply, which is headed by Lord Beaverbrook, in his conferences with Mr. Roosevelt. The British ministry, it was pointed out, grew out of difficulties in England in mobilizing the nation for war production.

Under the present system, Donald Nelson, director of S.P.A.B., is wielding tremendous power in war production, but he is not officially No. 1 man. There are seven members of S.P.A.B., which is headed by Vice President Wallace. While the O.P.M. supervises production, actual contracts are let by the war and navy departments.

The Senate defense committee is expected to submit a report next week in which it will urge that the defense set-up be reorganized by establishing one supreme body and a No. 1 man in defense production.

F. B. I. To Conduct School In State For Police Officers

Sessions To Be Conducted In New Castle Beginning February 23

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—The federal bureau of investigation, its plant surveys of the Tri-State area completed, today turned its attention to civilian defense and listed four six-day schools for police officers in Western Pennsylvania.

Joseph E. Thornton, agent in charge of the Pittsburgh office, announced that the schools will be held between February 16 and 28, with the first one scheduled to begin at Erie. The other three classes will begin February 23 and will be held simultaneously at New Castle, Altoona and Uniontown.

Thornton disclosed that the plant survey conducted by the F. B. I. was concluded January 5 and all recommendations and findings have been submitted to the war and navy departments.

"To date," he said, "there has not been any evidence of sabotage in our area and all industries have followed our suggestions wherever we have seen fit to make them."

Thornton said that the F. B. I. was cooperating with civilian defense administrators by instructing local law enforcement agencies in the proper methods of treating incendiaries and handling the population during blackouts and air raids.

With reference to the alien round-up in Western Pennsylvania, he said that of the 17 suspects originally apprehended by his office, four have been released or paroled and the balance interned for the duration of the war.

Charges Typhus-Stricken Troops Being Abandoned By Retreating Germans

(Editor's note: Leslie Haden Guest, famous British physician and author, former member of parliament and one-time parliamentary private secretary to the minister of health, tells a graphic story today of the ravages of the typhus epidemic raging in war-torn Europe. And he predicts the dread disease may become Europe's greatest problem after the war is over.)

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1942)

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Nazi forces retreating before the Russian lash are abandoning their typhus stricken troops to whatever grim fate may be in store for them, Dr. Leslie Haden Guest, noted British author and doctor, charged today.

One reason for this, he declared in an exclusive interview with International News Service, is an attempt to infect civilians with the dreaded scourge and through them pass it on to the onrushing Soviet troops.

Dr. Haden Guest told a grim story of what is happening in the disease-ridden sections of Europe and painted an even grimmer word picture of the effects of typhus on the Nazi troops.

"The German high command with typical Teutonic ruthlessness is abandoning its typhus-stricken troops during the retreat to the west," he said.

Move Is Two-Fold

"The move is two-fold. First, the Germans are abandoning these troops because they are not worth transport space in their hurried retreat to the rear.

"Second, they hope these troops will infect civilians and thus pass on the disease to the advancing Russian troops.

"Typhus is peculiarly a disease which spreads in winter time, when troops are huddled up to create warmth. It can be cured only by diligent nursing.

"And it is obvious that a retreating army is unable to provide adequate nursing facilities.

"The advancing Russian troops also are vulnerable to the disease, but with their superior nursing organization they are more capable of providing ameliorizing treatment.

Fatalities Large

"I am quoting Dr. Hugh Smith of Rockefeller Institute, who is an expert on typhus, when I say that a retreating army infected by typhus must suffer between 40 and 50 per cent fatalities.

"In Spain, where he has been dealing with the typhus outbreak, fatalities have been 15 to 20 per cent. But that was in peace time when they had adequate cleansing facilities denied to a retreating army.

According to the best information, the German army was not equipped to deal with a typhus epidemic. Obviously their schedule did not include an extensive winter campaign.

"The typhus epidemic among Nazi troops ought to be regarded as a warning of what we will have to contend with when the war is concluded. There is bound to be lack of fuel and food in the territories overrun by the Germany army.

"In such circumstances civilians crowd together for warmth and comfort, bathing facilities are impossible, lice abound and a serious epidemic is likely. It probably will exact a death toll far in excess of the deaths caused in battle.

"Therefore all non-Axis medical men should rally around the members of the Rockefeller Institute, and organize baths and cleansing and nursing clinics on a vast scale to cope with the greate problem to be faced after the war."

Dewey was ready for instant action because Teddy, assistant secretary, gave him secret orders weeks before war began. If the navy wasn't alert this time, why wasn't it the fault of Knox?

Pittsburgh Youth Dies At Niagara

Plunges Down Slippery Cliff Of Niagara River Gorge On Thursday

(International News Service)

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 9.—A 175-foot plunge down the slippery cliff of the Niagara river gorge had brought death today to John Maher, 21, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Maher, John Meyer, 22; James Duffy, 19, all students at Duquesne university, and Tom Regan, 20, an electrical worker, all of Pittsburgh, were enroute to Canada to enlist in the air corps.

As they hiked along the river road, Maher boasted he could scale the cliff. He descended to the river level in safety and had nearly made good his boast but slipped and fell to a narrow ledge near the river.

Meyer and Regan descended the cliff and held Maher on the ledge until help, summoned by Duffy, arrived. Maher was pulled to the top of the forge in an improvised sling and all were taken to General hospital where Maher died. Meyer's feet were frozen and Regan suffered frost bite.

SMITH HEADS COLLEGE LIST.

(International News Service)

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 9.—The name of Smith still reigns supreme among the University of Georgia student body, according to the new student directory just published Jones and Brown tie for second place.

AROUND CITY HALL

Four hundred and eleven persons were arrested by city police during the last month of 1941 and the city collected in police court, $686.60. Of the 411, three hundred and nine paid fines and costs, 273 of whom violated parking regulations. Ten persons were jailed and 80 discharged. Twelve were placed in custody of aldermen.

A perusal of the police report for December shows at 62 persons were arrested for intoxication. Considering the holiday season, police did not consider the figure high. In fact during the pre-Christmas and pre-New Year's week there was not much hilarity because of the serious war condition in the United States.

The dog catcher dispatched 43 dogs in December and the sealer and inspector of weights and measures reported five gasoline pumps were condemned.

SOLDIER KILLED IN TRUCK CRASH

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 9.—Sergt. Chester Suda, 23, of Olean, N. Y., was killed and nine other soldiers were injured when an army truck crashed through a guard rail and overturned in a marsh near Fort Meade. The truck tore down 15 posts of the guard rail and plunged 12 feet down an embankment before burying its cab in marsh water and mud. Suda was drowned.

One Army Airman Is Being Hunted

Seven Others Reported To Have Parachuted To Safety From Plane In West

(International News Service)

HANNA, Wyo., Jan. 9.—The blackened hulk of an army bomber lay in a resolate section south of Hanna today as a posse of coal miners and sheriff's officers spread out over rugged southern Wyoming hills in search for one airman still missing after parachuting from the stricken plane with seven other members of the crew.

The huge ship crashed seven miles south of this tiny mining community last night during a heavy snowstorm. Seven of the airmen aboard were known to have floated to earth safely beneath their white silk canopies.

The other crew member, who also bailed out of the bomber as it wallowed in the blizzard, apparently was blown far from the scene of the crash, Sheriff Glenn C. Penland said. The officer, aided by deputies and highway patrolmen, led the group of miners combing the region for the missing airman.

Two of the aviators were hospitalized at Hanna, but were reported to be not in serious condition. Others brought to the hospital within an hour after the crash were said to be suffering only from minor hurts.

The names of the crew members were withheld at the request of army authorities, who disclosed only that the plane was piloted by Lieut. Frank Potter, and that he was among the seven men who landed safely.

The program has been arranged under the auspices of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Firemen's Association.

In addition to a large number of firemen, both paid and volunteer men, there will be quite a few from local industries and utilities, who will attend.

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"Give the patient in room 203 some stimulating bibliotherapy."

Such a recommendation from a doctor is quite common nowadays.

What he means is "Give the patient in room 203 a good book".

In many ailments, the mental state aids physical recovery.

The nervous, excited patient needs a comforting sedative book.

The depressed patient may be enlivened by a snappy tale.

A good book will ease the long hours of convalescence.

Anxiety, fear, restlessness, ennui are diverted with a book.

Most hospitals have dietitians who cater to the body appetite.

Now comes the psychological dietitian with food for the mind.

This type of librarian is called a bibliotherapist.

To call the bibliotherapist, the patient says "Gimme a book!"

CONGRESS CONSIDERS NUMEROUS PLANS TO RAISE HUGE TAX

Morgenthau appeared in secret session, reported that he expressed opposition to any enforced savings plan similar to the one in effect in England.

3. Rep. Disney (D) Okla., veteran member of the house ways and means committee suggested that the $7,000,000,000 be raised as follows—a withholding tax deducting between three and four percent from all incomes to raise $4,000,000,000; a three and one-half percent general sales tax to yield $1,250,000,000, and increases in rates of existing taxes to raise $1,750,000,000.

Rep. Knudsen (R) Minn., another ways and means member, said he has asked the treasury to submit figures on a national lottery, and estimated that between one and two billion dollars could be raised that way.

"I'm only suggesting it as one of the things that should be looked into," he said.

Another committeeman—who declined to permit use of his name—suggested the confiscation of everything above $20,000 which an individual receives in any one year.

"It's either something like that or a good big general sales tax on everything, including food and clothing," he said.

On the whole, however, congress was marking time on the tax phase of the budget to await specific proposals from the treasury. A start on these, it was believed, was to be made today when Sen. George (D) Ga., chairman of the senate finance committee, and ways and means Chairman Doughton (D) N C., confer with Morgenthau.

Byrd, whose special committee already has proposed non-military cuts of $1,300,000,000 "as a starter," said the group will consider urging further reductions when it meets next week.

"I think that the budget reductions are a good start," Byrd declared. "I feel that it would be better to abolish some activities than merely to restrict them. I still believe we ought to cut between one and a half and two billion dollars in non-defense expenditures."

The meeting was closed with group singing which was led by Peggy Wilkison.

The next meeting will be on Wednesday next, at the cafeteria.

DEFENSE STAND IN PHILIPPINES SURPRISES JAPS

unanimous in pointing out the grave implications of the war department's communique.

Veteran army campaigners compared the tone of the communique to the mystic lull that covers a battle sector shortly before the thunder of conflict.

"Fighting of varying intensity is reported from all sections of the front," the war department stated, adding its prediction that a vast offensive seemed likely.

"Japanese reinforcements are being brought up to the front," according to the communique. Probability of a mass thrust was mentioned twice.

Expects Mass Attack

More evidence that the Mikado's strategists plan such a drive appeared in the strange absence of air raiders over the Manila Bay area. Corregidor Island, its surrounding fortresses and gun installations on Bataan Peninsula had been bombed for five successive days. Idleness of the Jap planes led experts to think that the next blast at Manila Bay will be synchronized with a withering assault from all directions at every point of the Philippines defense system.

The seriousness of the attack, observers said, lies in the fact that MacArthur's combined American-Filipino troops are heavily handicapped. They are greatly outnumbered. Japan has decisive command of the air.

Military men were concerned further by the continued barrage of explosives upon Corregidor. They pointed out that while the island fortress has withstood air attack successfully thus far the continued bombing gives the garrison little time to repair whatever damage is sustained in each raid.

Fall of Corregidor and the Manila Bay, they said obviously would permit Japan to land on Bataan and clamp MacArthur's troops in a new pincer. Faced by the increasing horde of Japs on the north, the defense line stood in Pampangan Province, north of Bataan Peninsula.

Japan Is Worried

Japan's apparent anxiety, tacticians said, is caused by failure of its army, navy and air force to accomplish a two-edged objective in a reasonably short time. The invaders desperately need to wipe out all resistance in the islands and gain complete possession of Manila Bay before their Philippine campaign is successful.

Japan must have Manila Bay as a base for further operations in the Far East, specifically for the conquest of the Dutch East Indies.

Military experts emphasized that 34 days have passed since the Nipponese attack began on the islands and that, in that time, the Japs have neither knocked out MacArthur's forces nor gained naval access to Manila Bay. The united nations, meanwhile, have bolstered defenses elsewhere with the result that each day that defense of the Philippines is extended is a day lost for the Mikado.

Since Japan needs the Indies' natural resources to carry on in a prolonged conflict and since the Philippines are the stepping stone to those southward Netherlands' possessions, time has become an important factor in Japan's plans, observers asserted with the conclusion that it is little wonder that the stubborn resistance of MacArthur's soldiers has caused apprehension at Tokyo.

After Assistant Secretary of War John J. McCloy asserted that Nippon has lost a heavy toll of lives in its assault upon America, the navy disclosed that the attackers also are losing ships. A single U. S. submarine, the navy said, sank a transport vessel and three cargo boats.

Tonnage of each cargo carrier was estimated at 10,000 tons. The crafty submarine crew belongs to Admiral Thomas C. Hart's Asiatic command, the navy said, withholding any additional information about the successful raid.

PRESIDENT MAY NAME FULL-TIME EXECUTIVE FOR CIVILIAN DEFENSE

dle civilian defense affairs would not displace either Mayor LaGuardia as director of OCD or Mrs. Roosevelt, first lady of the land, as his chief assistant. Both apparently will continue in their present duties and handle policies of the defense office.

The president is reported deeply concerned over congressional and other attack as LeGuardia for trying to administer civilian defense while retaining his position as mayor of New York City. His concern was increased when the house voted to strip LaGuardia of all power to administer a special $100,000,000 fund for civilian defense. The house gave spending authority to the war department, specifying that the money should be used to purchase gas masks, fire apparatus and other equipment necessary to protect civilians agianst bombing raids.

The president's contemplated action probably will end the congressional controversy over LaGuardia's defense status. The senate passed a bill three weeks ago, giving the New York mayor unlimited power to purchase gas masks and other air raid equipment for distribution to the general public—the total funds to be limited only by the amounts subsequently appropriated by congress.

TANK ASSAULT IS MADE BY JAPS ON WESTERN MALAYA

planes on at least three enemy ships also were reported in the military bulletin.

All-Out Effort

The latest official word from the front indicated the Japanese already are making an all-out effort to crack the new British lines established just south of the Slim river to defend strategic Kuala Lumpur, crude rubber center and railway junction which is regarded as a vital gateway to Singapore.

The engagement developed after the British withdrew to these new positions with the intention of making a solid stand in defense of Kuala Lumpur.

"Our troops heavily engaged the enemy in the Slim river area all day yesterday," the British communique stated.

Tank Attack

"After a preliminary infantry assault, the enemy attacked down the main road with tanks, followed by trucks loaded with infantry.

"Reports indicate the fighting was severe and that casualties were heavy on both sides.

"Elsewhere in Malaya there is nothing to report.

"Enemy aircraft raided Klang yesterday, causing a few casualties.

"Last night a few bombs were dropped on the Singapore area, causing slight damage.

"Our aircraft scored direct hits on a vessel north of the Anambas Islands and direct hits on two large enemy merchant ships in the Kuantan estuary."

'Board Girl' Chalks Quotations Today

Wartime trends introduced feminity to New Castle's "stock market" this morning, like it has in metropolitan centers.

Instead of "board boys" it was "board girls" at the Union Trust building brokerage office of Kay, Richards & Co. First young lady chalking up quotations there was Miss Florence Young, new to the job but anxious to become most proficient.

GROUNDHOGS COME OUT, EAT

Four groundhogs emerged from their holes Wednesday in the Gaston park zoo to eat, according to Owen Fox, who maintains the zoo. He said that he places food in the zoo regularly and the groundhogs apparently are losing some of their habits of the wild.

If you argue with a peddler, he may get you; but one argument that will defeat him is silence.

Mayor Imposes Two Heavy Fines

Andrew Mick, 1129 Croton avenue and Charles Ventrella, 738½ Oak street, each were fined $50.00 today by Mayor Charles B. Mayne in police court.

James Mayberry, mercantile assessor, reported to Councilman James Fink that when he went to inspect the business place of Mick at 1129 Croton avenue, he found a pin-ball machine in a rear room.

Under an existing ordinance they are taxable and an argument started. The machine was not in use, it was said. However, in the argument, Ventrella, who works for Mick reportedly seized Mayberry by the neck.

Detectives Criswell and Thomas went to the place, arrested Ventrella for his alleged action and Mick because they found several alleged money boards in the place, hence the fines.

Little Chance Now To Reduce State Taxes Says James

Outbreak Of War Spoils Likelihood Of Any Cut In Taxes In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—Gov. Arthur H. James today apparently saw little possibility of the state reducing taxes as long as the war continued.

"Even under the best possible conditions, before the war, we were just balancing the budget," he commented. Now the state was losing out on gasoline and license levies, to name but a few," he said. "If there was a chance to reduce taxes, I wouldn't hesitate," he added.

The governor disposed of the possibility that a special session might be called for January 12. Told of a "rumor" to that effect, he said, "there isn't anything of that kind in the wind."

The possibility of a tax reduction program during the present administration had appeared bright before the outbreak of war. Democratic leaders urged the governor to include the subject in a special call. House Majority Leader Leo A. Achterman going so far as to say a saving of $100,000,000 was possible. The governor refused. Such estimates were just "conjecture", he said today.

RUMORS GROUNDLESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Director Leon Henderson of the O.P.M.'s civilian supply division said on Wednesday his office did not intend to stop sales of batteries or spark plugs for automobiles and trucks, despite a "flood of groundless rumors." He said the reports had caused a needless run on stocks in many instances.

HOME-GROWN RUBBER

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Enough rubber to supply the defense and commercial needs of the United States can be grown by California, Texas and Arizona farmers within the next two years, declared William O'Neil, president of the General Tire and Rubber company. Farmers are able to grow Guayule—a native shrub of Mexico—which will produce real rubber at from 15 to 19 cents a pound, O'Neil said, as compared to the 22 cents a pound being paid for plantation rubber which is imported.

We haven't checked but maybe the one responsible for Pearl Harbor was a bum history professor at Annapolis.

Denies Any Plan For Government To Seize Autos

Price Control Administrator Says U. S. Not To Commandeer Private Cars

BULLETIN

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Price Control Administrator Leon Henderson assured the public today that the government has no intention or need to "commandeer" new or used automobiles.

He issued the following statement in reply to widespread rumors":

"These reports undoubtedly arose from my responses to questions asked at a press conference on Jan. 2. At that time I said in answer to a series of inquiries that commandeering of civilian cars was one of a number of remote and unpleasant possibilities that a prolonged war might bring about.

"I did not indicate that any such action was likely or necessary now or in the foreseeable future. Indeed, at one point in the conference, according to the stenographic transcript, I stated: 'I think it is bad enough to have to freeze things without having to go out and commandeer them'.

"Reports have reached my office that in some areas citizens are offering to turn over their cars for goevrnment use. These offers are commendable and patriotic. However, the government presently is well supplied with automobiles, and while grateful for the spirit shown, I must advise citizens to retain their cars for their own use."

Installation of President Jack Lebby and the entire group of 1942 officers of the Cosmo club took place last night when the club membership gathered in its North Mercer street quarters.

The group presented an award to its retiring president, Nathan J. Love, for his current community service. Love is serving as a bridge guard with the Pennsylvania Defense Reserve Corps.

Two Cosmo members, N. H. Baskind and Morton Silverman, leave for army service late this month and the club fittingly honored them.

Ten Are Lost As Mine-Layer Sinks

(International News Service)

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 9.—With Capt. William Chasteen as the sole survivor, army authorities today sought full details of the sinking of his mine-layer General Richard Arnold with the loss of 10 lives while towing a disabled minelayer in the north Atlantic yesterday.

Captain Chasteen, rescued in subzero weather from the heavy, icy seas, stated that one big wave hit his ship and it sank rapidly. Members of his crew rushed for their life belts but didn't have time to launch a lifeboat.

The skipper grabbed a floating mattress and remained on it until rescued.

Temporary Gas Shortage Hits More Industries

Score Or More Manufacturing Plants In Pittsburgh District Affected

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9.—A temporary gas shortage has forced curtailment of operations by a score or more manufacturers in the Pittsburgh district, it was learned today.

The office of production management in Washington asked the curtailment so that other concerns engaged in defense work could continue uninterrupted operations. The OPM also appealed to householders to cut their consumption of gas voluntarily.

Gas company officials said the shortage in Pittsburgh was due only to the unusual succession of cold days this week. An equitable gas company official said his firm had not been compelled to curtail any of its manufacturers yet. An official of People's Natural Gas Company reported his company had curtailed "some customers" but only temporarily.

An official of the Manufacturer's Light & Heat Company reported:

"We have no worry about our industrial service. We had an arrangement with some of our manufacturers whereby we could curtail them if necessary, but we see no imminent shortage for the domestic consumer."

WARS' SERIOUSNESS

January 7, 1942.

Editor, The New Castle News:

By chance I came across the letter below. Will you publish it for those of us whose very soul the author holds between his forefinger and thumb. It expressed exactly the feelings of us who have men "over there". (Mine is not with General MacArthur but he is on the front under Admiral Hart.)

For those of us with hearts heavy as lead but not as cold, with nerves as coils tight with tension, with stomachs that are volcano of molten churning lava, this author has hit "home"!

Since my husband sailed from that west coast pier two years ago this last November, life has been torture, heartaches, longing and dread (there is no romance in peril) now....it is Hell with all the trimrings!

MRS. ROBERT E RICKER.
West Clayton street.

(My thoughts to Mrs. John Brettell, Mrs. George Muse, Mrs. Fred Freeze and Mr. and Mrs. Chambers.)

The letter which is mention above appeared in a district newspaper and is as follows:

NEW YEAR'S EVE"

Last night as I sat beside my daughter, whose husband is fighting with MacArthur, and listening to the broadcast of the frivolities apropos of the coming New Year with—silly songs, general hilarity, and inane talk—I wondered if those people knew that their country was at war and that those poor devils in the Philippines were fighting for their lives, apparently abandoned, the promised aid not having come, without the enthusiasm of hope.

Not an expression came over the radio showing that celebrants even considered their existence except from Lowell Thomas. Nero may have fiddled while Rome burned and we, with the same callous indifference, celebrated in all the night clubs with money made possible by the blood and sweat of these men. While I do not care to emulate Hitler, yet even he shows more concern for his fighting men than to allow any frivolity of this kind. No one expects this type of people to put on crepe too soon, although some of them may put it on sooner than they think, but a little dignity on this particular New Year's Eve might have been more becoming. Thank God, those fellows defending Manila had no radio connection, for had they, what would they have thought?

That is always the way. The farther the people are from the firing line the louder they yell on all occasions. I recall the Armistice Day of 1918. I was in the front lines when word came down that the armistice was to go into effect at 11 o'clock, French time, when all shooting was to cease, etc. When that hour came, there was an oppressive silence that came over the lines on both sides. "There was no yelling and cheering. Each man turned to his neighbor and seemed to say, "Thank God, it is over and I may see home." Afterwards I read the accounts of what happened in the rear. It seemed that the hilarity progressed geometrically from the front to rear. The farther to the rear the louder they yelled, till it got to the United States, when it became hysteria.

SOLDIER IS LONELY

January 5, 1942

Editor News:
Dear Sir:

Will you please print this story. I am from New Castle, Pa.

I am a lonely soldier in North Carolina and I get very little mail. I have been in the U. S. Army only a short time. I spent most of that time in the hospital following an operation on November 26. I am still here today. It seems as though the mailman passes me up every day.

The only mail is from home, also from a girl in Wyoming. I am not able to do my part yet; I will soon. We are ready to get those Japs. I am here in the U. S. Army and will be ready to fight for the good U. S. A. So don't keep a lonely soldier waiting for mail. Let's hear from the young and old. Let's keep the mailman busy. It means a lot to a soldier to get mail from someone, so please write. I hope you folks back home don't forget us.

My address is:
Pvt. Ralph Lombardo,

Thank you,

Armed Guard Is Now Required At Local Airport

Planes Cannot Take-off Nor Land Here Until 24-Hour Armed Guard Is Provided

Planes are forbidden to take off or land at New Castle airport until a 24-hour armed guard has been established, airport officials announced today.

"We have been instructed to stop all take-offs and landings until the guard has been placed," said Findley C. Wilson, operator at the port at Parkstown Corners. The instruction came direct from the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Wilson said all airports are similarly affected, and at the present only the Allegheny county airport at Pittsburgh and one at Warren, Pa., are in operation.

The airfield guards, the C.A.A. told Wilson, must be properly deputized for service before the government will recognize them.

Pilots of the New Castle district this week are going through an official "roll call" ordered by the government.

Wilson could not say this morning whether or not a guard will be established here at the present time.

Moody Men Feast, See Game Films

Fellowship Reigns As 100 Enjoy Banquet; Ladies Serve Meal

Four technicolor reels of wild life and Boy Scout life motion pictures topped off the tasty venison feast which 100 members of the Moody Men's Bible class of First Methodist church enjoyed at the church last night.

Glen Carpenter showed the pictures. The venison was prepared by Dick Francis, well known sportsman-chef, and served by ladies of the Everready Sunday school class. The dinner was made possible by the congregation's pastor-sportsman, Rev. W. L. McLean.

Boosting the class roll and promoting fellowship was the object of the get-together. A business meeting took place at the close with Paul J. Laurell, president, presiding.

New Castle Begins Quest Of Section Three Title Tonight

RESERVES PLAY IN PRELIMINARY

New Castle high school basketball team begins its quest of the Section Three championship tonight at Aliquippa High floor. The reserves of both schools play the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

The locals will leave here by bus for the valley town at 5:30. Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh has given the boys a hard drilling this week in preparation for the tough game that he knows will await them at the hands of the Steelers.

Aliquippa has always given the locals a tough time of it on their own court and tonight will not be any exception. The Steelers in preleague warmups have licked Duquesne, Monaca and Washington.

Lineup Is Set

Coach Bridenbaugh intimated today that he would start his usual lineup. In reserve New Castle will have Melichar, Joe Ciazza, Bobby Stewart, Wilbur Young and Hen Burris.

The first home game in the league will be with Beaver Falls High here on Friday, January 16, one week from tonight. New Castle will be idle next Tuesday night.

Following is the probable lineups for the game tonight:

New Castle		Aliquippa
Ross	F	Zernich
Lee	F	Ferezen
Cooper	C	Schell
Zubkowsky	G	Hodanovanch
Parou	G	Odlivak

Junior Church League Games

Four more games are listed for the Junior Church Basketball league at the "Y" on Saturday. The first game will be palyed at 4:15 o'clock with the Baptists meeting the First Presbyterians.

Pennsylvania has banned enemy aliens from Keystone state rings, having patterned after the state of Illinois which banned Aldo Spoldi, Italian lightweight from appearing. According to Chairman Leon Rains of the Pennsylvania Boxing commission there are 40 or 50 enemy alien boxers and grapplers in the United States.

St. Vitus Has Great Record

St. Vitus Quintet has Won 36 Out Of 40 Games In Two Years Of Play

The St. Vitus church basketball team, Class AA champions in the New Castle Church league last year, have compiled a most enviable record over a two-year period, winning 36 out of 40 games played, it was announced today by Fred Marcella, prominent South Side sportsman.

During the month of December and January the team has won 9 and lost 4. Coach Kane Morgan would like to have the following players meet with him for a reorganization, as several of the boys are not showing up for the games—Rags Gennock, Sammy Ciazza Sammy Bullano, Pete Zingaro, Nickie Gennock, Joe Chiafullo, Mike Covelli, Louie Santangelo, Victor Ross, Guido Santangelo, Samy DeLillo, Felix Mele and Cy Congemi.

St. Vitus will play the Mahoning Methodists in a church league game next Monday night. The St. Vitus team announced today that they are willing to play the Gersons at the Arena on January 21, the night of the "Ghost" basketball game.

Gersons Schedule Game At Butler

The Gerson basketball team, one of the leading teams in this district, will go to Butler on Saturday to play the strong Butler Cubs team.

The Butler team has quite a reputation in these parts and the Gersons feel confident that they can take them. The local are primed for the best game they have played this season.

The Gerson players are to meet at the usual place at 7 o'clock to make the trip to Butler.

Ted Williams Is Almost In Army

(International News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 9.—Only a final physical examination at Fort Snelling stood between Ted Williams, American League batting champion, and a hitch in the U. S. Army today.

He went through his draft board physical examination yesterday with flying colors and remarked to physicians who pronounced his eyes in good shape:

"You'd think your eyes were OK, too, if you were able to see one of Bobby Feller's fast balls."

Williams was classed in 3-A a year ago because of the dependency of his mother but was reclassified last week.

Titan Flippers Gird For W. & J.

Crucial Clash Will Be Played At New Wilmington Gym Saturday Night

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 9.—There's considerable activity in Westminster gymnasium as Westminster college's Titans gird for Saturday night's cage battle with W[illegible] and Jefferson. The tilt, billed for New Wilmington, will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Following the yuletide vacation, Washabaugh returned to the hardwood for actual combat on Wednesday night, drubbing Waynesburg college, 42-27.

Drill Last Night

While the Titans succeeded in bagging an easy verdict, Coach Grover Washabaugh detected a few flaws which he blamed on the layoff. The Titans returned to their training base last night to prepare for the sixth embroglio of the campaign. Another session is carded for this evening.

Goldblum, the 17-year-old freshman who broke into the starting line-up Wednesday, may have earned himself a steady job. His play, both on the offense and defense, left little to be desired. His ability to win the ball in scrambles under the hoop and his manner of snaring rebounds stood out.

"Buzz" Ridl will likely line up at one of the forward posts. Dale Dunmire, playing the greatest game of his career, was shifted to forward against Waynesburg and may remain in the slot. Stan Wasik, the classy center, will handle the terminal assignment. Goldblum and Spark, undoubtedly one of the best guards in the district, will likely occupy the sentinel posts.

Prexies Tall

Washington and Jefferson is represented on the court this season by "Huck" Hartman, a 6 foot 7 performer. Albert Reece tops the six-foot mark by three inches. Wallace Kettlewell is another standout.

The Prexies, coached by Adam L. Sanders, rank as one of the top clubs ogf the district. After bowling over Youngstown college, 44-32, right in Youngstown, the Prexies flattened Bethany on Wednesday.

Last year the Titans notched a 44-37 decision.

The once-defeated Titans will perform at home for the second time this season. Saturday's home appearance will be the initial since December 16.

Second-Epworth Still Leading

Second U. P. Faces Tough Foe Tonight In Third U. P. Team

Second U. P. and Epworth Methodists are still sharing the lead in the New Castle Church Basketball league, but this may be changed tonight, when Second battles the Third U. P. team in the third game on the bill, and Epworth plays the St Marys team in the first game at 7:45 o'clock.

The Second-Third U. P. game is strictly an East Side battle and the boys will want to win this one badly. Second can still stay tied for the lead by winning, and will fight hard to accomplish that purpose, according to Manager Dick Davis.

In the first game at 7:45 o'clock the Epworth team will battle St. Marys and should win this one, but stranger things have happened. In the second game the Croton Methodists play the Central Christians, this decision being a tossup.

Standing of the New Castle Church league to date:

	W.	L	Pct.
Second U. P.	8	1	.888
Epworth	8	1	.888
St. Vitus	7	2	.777
St. Marys	5	4	.555
First Presbytedians	5	4	.555
Third U. P.	5	4	.555
First Baptists	5	5	.500
St. George Greeks	4	5	.444
Cen. Presbyterians	3	6	.333
Cen. Christians	2	7	.222
Mahoning Methodist	1	8	.111
Croton Methodists	1	8	.111

Louis Defends Title Against Baer Tonight

Louis, Jacobs And Baer Cooperate To Aid Naval Relief Funds

CHAMPION FAVORED TO WIN BY "KAYO"

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Joe Louis, a champion America always will be proud of, doffs the richest crown in pugilism in a salute to the buddies he may soon join in his country's colors tonight, when he meets Buddy Baer of California in a 15 round bout at Madison Square Garden for the benefit of the Naval Relief Society.

The fight, a return match between the Bomber and the Pacific coast giant who gave him one of his closest calls, will set another milestone in the history of boxing, for Louis and Promoter Mike Jacobs are donating every cent of their purses to the society which cares for relatives and families of seamen now busy seeing that the "Rising Sun" sets, once and for all, in the Far East.

Joe will receive 40 percent and Buddy 12½ percent of a gate Promoter Jacobs hopes will reach $200,000. The Baer cub is contributing two and a half percent of his small cut to the cause, also, which means that some 90 percent of the net gate will go to the fund—an all time high for a charity boxing show.

A near capacity crowd of close to 19,000 is expected though Promoted Jacobs admitted yesterday his hopes of hitting a $200,000 gross would depend on today's sale. "It's been that way with all big sporting events in town the last few weeks," said Mike. "Everyone waits until the last minute. The advance sale has passed $100,000."

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Friday sports edition:—

Half a minute interview with "Chick" Davies, Duquesne basketball coach: "Against Westminster, my boys played as good a game as any team I have coached in the past 20 years. They had to be superb against Westminster. Luckily, they were. Before the season ends, Westminster will be as tough as they come, especially with some of those freshmen gaining experience." . . .

John Lawther, Penn State basketball coach, had this to say when we mentioned the fact that New Castle fans were going to honor Hershel Baltimore, his center: "You couldn't have picked a better boy. He's one of the finest boys I have ever coached. He likes basketball so well that he spends practically all of his spare time practicing." . . .

After watching the Westminster-Waynesburg and Duquesne-West Virginia twin bill in The Gardens, this scribbler is convinced that that auditorium is a poor place for the cage sport due, mainly, to the fact that the layers of ice, used for hockey, are underneath a rather thin floor. The ice sure affects the tootsies. . . .

Lester "Bus" Reiber, who selected Uncle Sam over sure success in the collegiate basketball world this season, has joined the United States Coast Guard and is off to receive orders in Buffalo. Reiber, one of Duquesne's prize veterans this season, decided to answer the call to colors last summer and dropped out of school. He first tried to join the air corps but was rejected. . . .

Pennsylvania has 50 collegiate basketball teams. . . . Frankie Albert, the All-American quarterback of Stanford fame, has signed a movie contract. His first flicker will be, "The Spirit of Stanford." . . . Winners of the Professional Golfers' Association senior championship carded for Fort Myers, Florida, January 15-18, will be paid off in United States defense bonds. . . .

Cy Slapnicka probably will return to scouting duty next season, according to the grape vine circuit. He'll work for the Tigers. . . . Otto Graham, Northwestern's classy footballer, is making life miserable for Big Ten cage rivals. Otto is dropping 'em in at a better than 16 points per game average. Tonight's special (you can go to sleep on this one)—Joe Louis to freeze the big bad Baer. . .

Four Section 20 Battles Tonight

Shenango-Union And Wampum-Bessemer Embroglios Highlight Card

Class B basketball aggregations take over the spotlight tonight as county rivals continue their bruising battle for Section 20 honors.

Union Township and Shenango Township, both teams sporting opening night triumphs, clash on Shenango floor. Coach Patterson's Scotland Lane flippers engineered one of the early surprises, downing a strong East Brook outfit, Tuesday. Shenango teed-off with a win over Princeton.

Presnar, Johnson and Annarella flashed sparkling play for Union on debut night. Kalajainen and Buly supervised Shenango's conquest of Princeton.

Wampum-Bessemer

Another key battle pairs Wampum and Bessemer on Bessemer floor. Wampum, after yielding an overtime decision to East Brook, nudged a classy New Wilmington edition, 21-20, Tuesday. Coy Craine is the "he-wolf" of Wampum's offensive attack.

In polishing off Mt. Jackson, Bessemer served notice of its strength. In Jack Grubisa and Kresevich, Coach A. G. Capezutti has a pair of aces in the hole.

For action, this fracas will be hard to top. A capacity crowd is expected to watch the negihboring rivals.

New Wilmington high bids for its initial triumph in its tiff with Princeton, carded for community floor, New Wilmington. Paced by Kenny Cathcart, a towering performer, the "Greyhounds" must be ranked among the contenders for the loop ermine. Black's seems to be Princeton's hot shot.

Mt. Jackson's scrap at East Brook high completes an exceedingly sizzling cage attraction. Grosetti, who is loaded with cage savvy, is the superintendent of the Brookers' offensive drive. Bader looms as the Jacks' mainstay.

New Castle Away

While the Class B brothers iron out their arguments, New Castle high opens Section III hostilities at Aliquippa, facing another solid Quip outfit. Following a barnstorming tour that paired the Bridenbaughmen the classiest district foes, New Castle is "physically fit" for the grueling weeks ahead.

Up at New Wilmington, Westminster College prepares for its sixth clash of the season, Saturday evening at New Wilmington, against towering Washington & Jefferson College.

With New Castle carded away and the Titans due to resume warfare tomorrow, the Class B hoopsters have the stage all to themselves tonight.

TWO CHAMPIONS HERE WEDNESDAY

Nick Wargo And Freddy Miller Carded Against Tough Opponents

No fight in recent fistic extravaganzas will possess more appeal for fandom than that scheduled by the Jefferson Athletic club for next Wednesday night in The Arena because there are some mighty punchers calendared, among them Nickie Wargo. He is docketed to fight Frankie Cordy who cut short the winning streak of Baby Leasure with a solar plexus punch in his last appearance here.

Nick, a resident of McKees Rocks, is the Diamond Belt junior lightweight champion of the Pittsburgh district. Cordy has been coming on fast, and when Matchmaker Tom Leach offered Cordy a chance to use his punch to the pit of the stomach on the Pittsburgh champ, Matt MacGowan accepted the match so quickly it made Leach's head swim. This ought to be one of the nicest battles seen here in some time.

Billy Reale To Fight

Having had a long rest Billy Reale, the loop'em kid, will try conclusions with George Hawkins, a Pittsburgh husky. Both have a strong punch and a knockout may end the match abruptly.

Les Leasure, known as the "Canco Kid," and a fighter who never ceases to try, will take on Freddie Miller, a Diamond Belt champion, at 155, who hails from Pittsburgh. This also should prove a rapid-fire duel.

Russell Baxter, flashy middleweight who fought one of his best fights in a year against Leasure recently, has been scheduled to take on Freddie Lester of Pittsburgh, who belongs in the Nick Wargo outfit.

Baby Leasure will get a chance to stage a come-back when he opposes Billy Shelton of Pittsburgh at 135. The baby of the Fighting Leasures hasn't allowed the recent defeat to disturb confidence in himself.

SPORTSMEN'S BOARD.

Board of directors of Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A., H. N. Drio, secretary, announced today. The sportsmen's monthly meeting will be held Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in the Veterans of Foreign War hall, East Washington street.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The New York Yankees probably didn't actually realize how much they would miss Lou Gehrig until he was gone.

He came a close to being irreplacable as a ball player can be. The vacancy he left at first base in 1939 is still wide open. It never has been adequately filled despite the wealth of the Yankees and the abundance of talent, good, bad and otherwise, available from their far-flung empire of farms. The price tag placed on Dolph Camilli by President Larry MacPhail, of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and the inroads on baseball talent made by the war are about to leave the Yankees with an eight-man ball club for the start of the 1942 season.

Barring the unforeseen, they are going to miss the old iron horse more than ever during the next campaign.

Is Real Problem

They may still get Camilli, the most valuable man in the National League last year; best fielding first baseman in the game, or close to it, and a power hitter moulded along the lines the Yankees crave. But President Ed Barrow replies to that possibility with a terse "not at MacPhail's price." He said it again as late as yesterday.

This first base problem has been there ever since Gehrig left the club, a victim of paralysis that finally took his life, and as the years roll along the iron horse's place among ball players and among the Yankees continues to grow in importance.

As long as he was around there never was the remotest doubt as to who would be at first base not only at the start of the season and at the finish, but for every game in between. Now they don't know who will open the season and whoever he may be, they can't be sure he will wind up there.

Babe Dahlgren took over as successor to Gehrig, but finally was sent away largely because his hitting did not meet the Yankee tempo. They tried Joe Gordon, but quickly sent him back to second base where he belonged and they wound-up last campaign with Johnny Sturm, who was just adequate, but can't be even that now. He is with that biggest team of them all—the one your Uncle Sam is running.

Priddy Mentioned

The Yankees are talking about trying Gerald Priddy at first, despite the fact that he came up from Kansas City with Phil Rizzuto as part of that stellar keystone duo. Maybe he can, but perhaps he can't and they also talk about Buddy Hassett, and even bring up the name of Tommy Henrich, who has been talked about for years as Gehrig's successor without ever playing the role.

The Yankees, of course, have one consolation in times like these as they try to get their team together for the beginning of spring training a month or so hence, and that is the fact that all clubs are going to come up short of talent because of the war.

The Yanks may even be able to win another pennant and world series without a first baseman from the way things are going. But just suppose they had that Gehrig with them now.

MILWAUKEE—Ned Day will roll in tournaments this season with the team from Milwaukee. The generally recognized match champion replaces the late Rudy Reipel.

Auto Use Tax Stamps To Be On Sale Soon

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9. — The treasury disclosed today that the new federal automobile use tax stamps will be placed on sale at post offices throughout the country on January 26.

Under recent tax laws enacted by Congress, there will be a $5 a year tax on use of automobiles. Motorists will have to buy a stamp which will be affixed to the windshield.

However, the stamp to be purchased January 26 will cost only $2.09. It will cover use of autos until beginning of the fiscal year July 1. After that, motorists will have to purchase a $5 stamp for the fiscal year beginning July 1 and ending June 30, 1943.

Better not spend all your hate in the Pacific. It is still Germany's war, and all others are stooges.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

People are beginning to wake up . . . one very promising remark came to our attention this week. A business man who has the habit of playing the "numbers" said that in 1942 he was going to spend the money he usually spent for "numbers" buying Defense Stamps . . . a very good idea. Security is worth more than you realize.

* * *

It was said that yesterday was so cold that George Washington on the Dollar Bill thought he was back at Valley Forge. Man, that must have been cold. Think what Washington and his men went through for the rest of the good people of this nation. Are we going to let him down . . . no, no a thousand times no.

* * *

During the past week we have had the privilege of talking to quite a number of local boys who are now in the Army. Their information concerning the work at camp and also their leisure time has been very educating. We find that one present is greatly appreciated by the boys . . . that one item is Cigarettes . . . of course those who don't use the "weed" probably prefer candy. But if you want to please a friend in camp . . . just send him a few packages of cigarettes. In some sections of the United States, theatres have a box in their lobby where packages of cigarettes may be placed . . . a sign also reads . . . "buy two packages, send one to a boy in camp". After a number have been gathered, names of local boys and where they are stationed are secured from the local Draft Boards . . . Thus the boys know that their home section is behind them . . . And we are behind each and every man in camp, are we not?

Some folks must appreciate Christmas more than others . . . last night while driving down town we noticed several homes where Christmas Trees were still decorated. Maybe they are celebrating the big day every week . . . nice going if you can take it. Right now a good many are beginning to suffer from Christmas . . . it is bill time. You can't do anything without paying in some way . . . And it's pap who pays and pays.

Don't forget the classified ad page . . . this page will do more work for less cash outlay than any other method you can name. Try one of these little inexpensive ads and surprise even yourself.

Lions To Banquet Football Squad On Monday Night

Outstanding Program To Highlight Main Talk By Buff Donelli, Duquesne Coach

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 9.—With one of the leading football coaches of the nation, Aldo Buff Donelli, Duquesne university mentor, as the main speaker, great interest is being displayed in the second annual football banquet to be held on Monday night at the Elks club house by the Ellwood Lions club.

Donelli has spoken here a number of times in the past and made a big hit with the banqueteers. Following the usual procedure, the club did not stop with securing one notable speaker but also have arranged to have William Houghton, new Massillon, O., high school coach, and Dwight Bede, who led Youngstown college to an outstanding season during the past season, take part in the program. R. J. Schill will serve as toastmaster, and the program will conclude with motion pictures of the 1941 season.

Only 250 reservations can be handled and there are still a few left. No tickets will be sold after Saturday to enable women of the Lutheran church, who will serve the dinner, to place their food order.

The entire football squad of the past season will be guests of the Lions, along with the managers and coaches, bringing the total expected attendance to about 320. The team will be presented with the Geneva cup for winning the 1941 Beaver Valley championship, and additionally each player, manager and coach will be presented with a gift by the sponsoring club, which is going all the way to make the tribute a real and successful one.

Council Re-elects All Boro Employees

Board Accepts $29,000 Government Grant Toward Remodelling Sewage Plant

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 9.—All boro employes, including boro manager, Lowell W. Monroe, were re-elected for a two-year period by the Ellwood Boro Council at the regular January meeting held last night at the city building. The office of solicitor does not expire for another two-year period. All present rules and regulations were adopted.

The resignation of John R. Luck as a member of the board of police commission was presented and accepted with the rules and regulations committee to make a recommendation at the next meeting. Miss Louise Barton was re-elected to the zoning commission for a one-year period.

A letter from George Davidson, board of health secretary, stated that O. J. Lersch had been chosen as a member for a two-year term and that Lewis Young was re-elected health officer.

The council took a step nearer the re-modelling of the sewage disposal plant when they voted to accept a $29,000 grant from the government toward the project. Council had hoped to secure a larger grant, but it was explained that since the emergency the funds were being allocated to government projects. In addition to the $29,000 the plant will cost $113,000, at the lowest estimate. Of this amount, $100,000 will be secured through a bond issue and the remaining $13,000 can be taken care of through regular boro funds. It was pointed out that it will likely be impossible to secure some of the material needed. For the past four years, the state health department has insisted that the boro remodel the plant. Through various surveys, the boro has delayed the improvement until the present time, and now the state department demands that the work begin.

The dedication of the streets in the Forest Hill plan of lots was accepted and will be recorded.

Eight fires were reported for the month of December, resulting in $285 damage. Total fines, costs and forfeits amounted to $44.50. Tax returns for December were listed at $427, 1938; $756, 1939; $173, 1940, and $684, 1941.

Contagious diseases included four cases of whooping cough and two of chicken pox.

Council meets again next Thursday to consider the tentative 1942 budget.
